

DOCTORATE OF PHILOSOPHY

LEADERSHIP STUDIES

NORTH CAROLINA A&T STATE UNIVERSITY

SCHOOL OF GRADUATE STUDIES

RESEARCH AREAS

- African American Leadership
- Civic and Community Engagement
- Critical Theory
- Diversity
- Educational Leadership
- Global Leadership
- Health and Energy Systems

FOR MORE INFORMATION

Department Chair
Dr. Abul Pitre
apitre@ncat.edu

The Ph. D. in Leadership Studies prepares tomorrow's leaders to solve societal challenges. The program through its commitment to civic engagement, transformative research and creative scholarship produces scholars who are critical thinkers and social justice advocates capable of transforming organizations and institutions to maximize human potential.

FACULTY RESEARCH AND STUDENT FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

The University currently funds some assistantships and may have financial assistance for tuition remission and stipends. The University's Office of Financial Aid may also have assistance opportunities. Financial aid is based on merit and availability of funds.

UNIQUE FEATURES

- Executive Eminent Speakers
- Roundtables
- Study Abroad

CAREER ENHANCEMENT

Graduates of the program find employment in business, industry, science, education, engineering, military fields, higher education, as well as additional areas.

ADMISSION

For Admission requirements, please visit the Graduate School website.

GRADUATE OFFICE
120 GIBBS HALL
336-285-2366
WWW.NCAT.EDU/~GRAD