

YOU MIGHT BE

SOLID GOLD

By Brian Holloway '97

If you fit the following criteria, well, you might be SOLID GOLD!

If you know Jesse Jackson's position, stats and you own his throwback jersey from his playing days as an at A&T football player. You might be Solid Gold!

If upon hearing your wife is having a baby, you decide to start making tuition payments to A&T. You might be Solid Gold!

If you're willing to wear a Gold Wig to homecoming and are proud of it. You might be Solid Gold!

If you come home each evening and greet your family with the phrase. "Are there any Aggies in the House?!!!" You might be Solid Gold!

If the first two words you tried to teach your child to say was Aggie Pride instead of Mommy and Daddy. You might be Solid Gold!

If you plan to skip Grandma's homemade sweet potato pie over the Christmas Holidays so you can follow the Aggies men's basketball team to Southern Cal and Hawaii. You might be Solid Gold!

If you ever went to Barnes & Noble's on the release date of the latest Harry Potter book, and asked if they sold A&T football media guides. You might be Solid Gold!

If you pay your A&T parking ticket soon after receiving. You might be Solid Gold!

If you know who is the oldest of the Mitchell twins (Arlene and Darlene) on the A&T volleyball team and the time they were born. You might be Solid Gold!

If you ever participated in an online poll at bluedeathvalley.com. You might be Solid Gold!

Heck, if you know what bluedeathvalley.com is. You might be Solid Gold!

If you've ever been upset because A&T doesn't release its homecoming dates 10 years in advance. You might be Solid Gold!

If you are offended when someone from N.C. Central, Winston-Salem State, Hampton or Howard asks you; what is an Aggie as if you don't know. You might be Solid Gold!

If you need a Google search to find out who Bobby Bowden and Roy Williams are, but you know George Small's favorite food and you have memorized Jerry Eaves' life story. You might be Solid Gold!

If you pass up a chance to go home on the weekend so you can attend an Aggies football game and show off your Solid Gold. You ARE Solid Gold and we need YOU! RU Solid Gold?! "Aggie Mania ... It's a Blue and Gold State of Mind!"

Wear gold as you experience Aggie football and Aggie Pride!
