A Moment of Silence

Approval of Minutes
The February 25, 2014 minutes were approved.

Senate Welcome and Remarks
National Student Success Ratings- New presidential initiative to make colleges more affordable includes a rating system for performance, whose matrices are currently being developed. Federal aid is now tied to performance outcomes, which many feel puts HBCUs at a disadvantage. Many organizations are responding to the proposed rating systems, so faculty should look these over and attend a Chancellor’s Forum to discuss A&T’s response to them. Senators should seek feedback from their faculty.

University Risk Management- University A&T will be undertaking a comprehensive analysis to determine where risks lie and response possibilities for those risks.

Faculty Senate Institute- April 22, 2014. An all-day institute will be held at Gateway University Research Park, ending with the April Senate meeting.
Educational Policy Committee

Dr. Radiah Minor

Dr. Minor brought to the Senate a general discussion of the proposed changes to Psychology Department policy on education, which their committee had denied. The Department wants to change their incoming (high school) GPA minimal requirements from 2.8 to 3.0. After much discussion of the matter, a vote was taken, which approved the Psychology Department’s proposed changes.

NCAA Compliance

Mrs. Katreshia A. Louis-Verrett

What Does Faculty Need to Know? Faculty should identify any problems or special projects and communicate them as early as possible. Please help recruit new athletes during Welcome Days.

The Budget

Mr. Robert Pompey

What It Means for Faculty at the University: A priority of the state budget has been to raise the salaries of K-12th grade teachers, whose salaries are sadly under par. Dr. Roberto reminded Mr. Pompey that university faculty pay raises should not be overlooked either. Tax reforms are generally impacting the state’s ability to give any faculty their needed upgrades. He has communicated to the state that budget cutbacks must be on hold or the quality of programs will be at risk. Pay raises are necessarily halted until the state of the budget is clear. Reductions for A&T may be 0 to 3%, but we will not know for certain until after the mid-May meeting of the General Administration. Mr. Pompey asks that departments begin to strategize their cutback plans “just in case.” A&T will be hiring “performance contractors” to indicate where cutbacks can best be made and to show where losses are occurring that may be saved (utilities use, for example). Any savings will accrue to the benefit of the university.
