Phased Retirement Program for Tenured Faculty

Benefits Issues

Salary Limitations on Retirement Income

- If you are in the Optional Retirement Program (ORP), there is no limit on the salary you may earn during retirement.
- If you are in the Teachers and State Employees Retirement System (TSERS), there is a limit on the amount you can earn from the State while receiving retirement income.

TSEERS Salary Limitation

- Limit is the greater of 1/2 of the final year's earnings or $31,140 for 2015
- If limit is exceeded, retirement benefit and retiree health benefit are suspended the first of the next month and until the end of the calendar year
- Salary increases may only be given within the individual earnings limit established by TSEERS. The limit is increased Jan.1 of each year by the % increase in the Consumer Price Index

Application of TSERS Salary Limitation

- Initial Year - Earnings in the first 12 months after the effective date of retirement will be applied to the earnings test for TSERS. After the initial year, the test will change to a calendar year test; earnings from January through December.
- For example, a person retiring July 1, 2016 will have the earnings test applied to the period July 1, 2016 through June 30, 2017.
- Thereafter, earnings will be applied to the calendar year. This rule is to prevent someone from retiring and earning their full salary in the first year of retirement.

Example #1

- Consider:
 - » A faculty member whose base salary is $75,000
 - » No additional earnings from the State between July 1, 2016 and June 30, 2017

- Phased Retirement Salary is $37,500

- TSERS Earnings Limit is $37,500

Example #2

- Consider:
 - » A nine-month faculty member whose base salary is $75,000
 - » This faculty member earned an additional $10,000 from the State between July 1, 2016 and June 30, 2017
- Phased Retirement Salary is $37,500
- TSERS Earnings Limit is $42,500

Retirement Benefits

- May elect to receive or defer retirement benefits
 - » Minimum distributions are required to begin by April 1 following the year you reach age 70½
- TSERS: Note that at 50% time no additional service credit is earned and highest 4 years of salary is already attained
- ORP: May begin benefit, may begin partial benefit, may defer.
- IMPORTANT CAUTION: You will not be eligible for retiree health insurance if you are not receiving a monthly retirement benefit

Retirement Benefits continued

- TSERS & ORP: Bailey lawsuit eliminates NC State income taxes on TSERS/ORP income for employees vested in TSERS or participating in ORP on August 12, 1989.

Health Insurance

- Must be in receipt of a monthly TSERS or ORP retirement benefit to receive retiree health insurance
- Transferred from Active Group Plan to Retiree Group Plan. No payroll deduction from A&T.
- Child/family coverage premiums must be deducted from TSERS check or, if ORP, by bank draft or personal check

Social Security Medicare (Age 65)

- At age 65, must sign up for Part A and Part B
- Part A - covers Hospitalization costs (paid for in advance through FICA tax)
 - » Deductible is $1260/hospital stay
- Part B - covers Doctor's fees and Outpatient hospital services
 - » The standard premium is $147 per month
 - » Deductible is $147 per month depending on your yearly income level
 - » Co-pay is 20%

Social Security Medicare (Age 65) continued

- In Phased Retirement, State Health Plan's retiree health insurance coverage becomes secondary to Medicare Part B, and does not pay for expenses reimbursable under Medicare Part B
- Remember, you are not still "working," you are "retired, working part-time."

Social Security Limits for 2013

- For those born in 1950 (turning 65 in 2016), full retirement for Social Security is 66 years.
- If you're under full retirement age when you begin Social Security benefits, $1 in benefits will be deducted for each $2 you earn above the annual limit. For 2016, the limit is $15,720. Phased retirement is considered earnings, TSERS and ORP income is not considered earnings.

Social Security Limits for 2014 continued

- In the year you reach full retirement age, $1 in benefits will be deducted for each $3 you earn above a different limit, but only for the months before the month you reach the full retirement age. For 2015, the limit is $41,880.
- The earnings limits amounts for 2016 are not yet available.
- Starting with the month you reach full retirement age, you can receive your full social security benefits with no limit on your earnings.
