DEPARTMENT OF COUNSELING

Dear Student,

Welcome to the Department of Counseling at North Carolina A&T State University. This handbook provides you with an overview of the Counseling programs and related policies and procedures. Ours is a distinct, comprehensive curriculum; resulting in accreditation for the School Counseling and Mental Health Counseling - Clinical programs from the Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Education Programs (CACREP). North Carolina A&T State University was the first Historically Black College or University to earn this distinction. Furthermore, our Mental Health Counseling - Rehabilitation Counseling program is accredited by the Council on Rehabilitation Education (CORE). The PhD in Rehabilitation Counseling and Rehabilitation Counselor Education is the first of its kind at a HBCU in the United States and the first rehabilitation counseling program with an emphasis in Trauma and Trauma Informed Care. The Counseling programs also offer certificates in Marriage and Family Counseling, Vocational Evaluation & Work Adjustment, Rehabilitation Psychology and Behavioral Medicine, and Rehabilitation Counseling and Behavioral Addictions.

This handbook provides specific information you will need to know as you matriculate through the program. Take the time to read your Student Handbook thoroughly and refer to it often. We also ask that you sign the agreement at the end of this handbook and give it to your advisor at your first meeting.

Please know that you are an integral part of this department and your success is our goal. We look forward to a very rewarding and productive year.

Sincerely,

Dr. Caroline S. Booth
Interim Chairperson
Department of Counseling

INTRODUCTION TO GRADUATE STUDY IN THE DEPARTMENT OF COUNSELING

Mission Statement

The mission of the Department of Counseling is to provide a comprehensive learning environment that encourages the development of helping professionals to serve a changing, diverse, and complex global society. The Department is committed to serving our surrounding communities and North Carolina in training future counselors, educators, and administrators with an emphasis on multiculturalism, assessment, and social justice through the lifespan. We strive to create a supportive instructional community with rich field experiences and meaningful professional partnerships that motivate our students to become highly competent scientist practitioners.

The Program Objectives

The Counseling program housed within the Department of Counseling intends to meet the needs of its students while preparing them to become professional counselors and counselor educators. The program objectives are to:

1. Present theoretical and practical experiences which prepare graduates to function effectively as counselors.
2. Encourage the spirit of inquiry and the production and utilization of research among both faculty and students.
3. Produce counselors who use appropriate, culturally sensitive, intervention strategies and skills in working with clients.
4. Foster the development of an awareness and understanding of problems and professional issues as well as the legal and ethical concerns in the counseling profession.
5. Foster the development of the characteristics, personal qualities, and levels of integrity necessary to meet professional standards.
6. Provide opportunities for planned periodic self-evaluation and the development of greater self-understanding as well as the qualities of openness, tolerance, and acceptance of self and others.
7. Develop and provide a multicultural environment that fosters skills necessary for professional counseling in a diverse society.

In summary, our program is designed to prepare professional counselors to serve in a variety of counseling settings.

PROFESSIONALISM

through

Understanding that transcends difference;

Nurturing and care for our commonalities;

Identifying client needs and group needs;

Taking ownership for student's level of involvement;

Yesteryear and the past are behind us, today is anew;

and

Communication is our strength;

Objectivity is important in togetherness;

Obligation to self and clients;

Patience and change are challenges;

Emphasize multicultural awareness;

Respect for each other's professional skills;

Advocate and support agreed-upon goals;

Training and professional development;

Innovation and initiative are important to the process;

Opportunity and motivation are essential to further change;

Negotiate leaving room to reach agreement.

Dr. Wyatt D. Kirk (2006)
Past Chair, HDSV

General Information

The Department of Counseling is one of four departments in the College of Education at North Carolina A&T State University. The Dean of the College of Education is located in Room 380 Proctor Hall. The Graduate School office is located in 120 Gibbs Hall.

The department has three master's programs: (a) Master of Science degree is offered in Mental Health Counseling - Clinical, (b) Master of Science degree is offered in Mental Health Counseling - Rehabilitation, and (c) Master of Science degree in School Counseling and a Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) in Rehabilitation Counseling and Rehabilitation Counselor Education. Programs of study are restricted to students who have been officially admitted with graduate status.

All master's counseling tracks (i.e., School Counseling, Mental Health Counseling – Clinical, and Mental Health Counseling – Rehabilitation) require completion of sixty (60) graduate credit hours. Counseling internships, involving supervised professional experience in a setting appropriate to the student's career objectives, are included in the graduate credit hours. For post-master's students, the Counseling program also offers a PhD program in Rehabilitation Counseling and Rehabilitation Counselor Education (63 credit hours) and multiple certificate programs (12 credit hours).

Accreditation

North Carolina A&T State University is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS). The Counselor Education (school counseling) program is accredited by the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP) and the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction (NCDPI). Program offerings in the area of School Counseling are designed in compliance with the competencies set forth by the Department of Public Instruction. The School Counseling program and the Mental Health Counseling - Clinical program are accredited by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP). The current curriculum in the Clinical Mental Health Counseling – Rehabilitation program is accredited by the Council on Rehabilitation Education (CORE).

Organization of the Department

The Department of Counseling is located in 329 Proctor Hall. This is the office of the Departmental Chairperson and the departmental Administrative Assistants. Counseling faculty members have offices on the third floor of Proctor Hall. The departmental phone number is (336) 334-7916.

Faculty Directory

The following list includes all full-time counseling faculty of the Counseling Department along with some indication of their major areas of interest within counseling. Full-time faculty have a regular university appointment that includes teaching, advising, research, service to the department, school and university, and special assignments. Many faculty are also active in professional service and community engagement as well. Full-time faculty members are required to maintain office hours suitable for student conferences and tutorials. Office hours are posted on the door of the respective faculty member. Throughout the year, adjunct faculty teach specific departmental courses on a part-time or occasional basis. Adjunct faculty are credentialed in their respective areas.

DEPARTMENTAL POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Admissions and Continuance Standards

The Application Process

Persons applying for graduate study in the Department of Counseling at North Carolina A&T State University must have earned a bachelor's degree from a four-year college. The application packet may be obtained online from the NCAT Graduate School. Complete applications include a completed application form, personal statement, resume, official transcripts of all prior academic work, three letters of recommendation or reference forms, statement of residence, and application fee. If enrolled in an academic program at the time of admission, the applicant must submit the final transcript verifying graduation before the School of Graduate Studies will finalize the admission decision.

The Department of Counseling at North Carolina A&T State University accepts and reviews applications for admission once a year. The deadlines for all counseling applications are February 1 for fall admission. Currently, the counseling programs only offer annual admission in the fall.

The applicant's packet will be reviewed by the School of Graduate Studies and the Admissions Committee of the Department of Counseling. Applicants with greatest potential will be invited to participate in a pre-admission interview with departmental faculty. The Department makes a recommendation to the School of Graduate Studies which then makes the final admissions decisions.

Admission Requirements

Admission to graduate study within the Master's and Certificate programs in the Department of Counseling is subject to the following requirements and considerations:

- Persons applying for graduate study within Departmental programs should have an overall undergraduate and/or graduate GPA of 3.0 or higher on a 4-point system.
- Primary factors in the admissions decision include academic background, demonstrated professional and volunteer experience appropriate to Departmental programs of study, three letters of recommendation or reference forms, resume, and official transcripts of all prior academic work.
- The Graduate Record Examination (GRE) is recommended but not required for admission to the department. The GRE is required in order to receive financial assistance (Financial Aid). However, in certain instances, the Counseling Admissions Committee may recommend or request applicants take the GRE. In the event an applicant is asked to take the GRE, then his or her score will be submitted to the graduate school as a part of the application process, and the GRE score will be considered in the overall admissions decision. Test of English as a Foreign Language is required for international students. It is also important to note that the GRE is required to receive financial assistance from the Graduate School in the form of Graduate Assistantships.

- In addition to the recommendation forms required by the School of Graduate Studies, each applicant is required to submit a personal statement to the Counseling Admissions Committee describing career goals, research interests and a list of publications, experience, academic honors and organizations. Although it is not required by all academic departments, the Counseling Admissions Committee considers this statement to be a document that strongly supports the application for admission.

Admission to graduate study within the Doctoral program in the Department of Counseling is subject to the following requirements and considerations:

- Master's in Rehabilitation Counseling (CORE), or Counseling (CACREP), or a related profession
- Official transcripts from Master's and Undergraduate programs attended
- Acceptable GRE Score
- Master's GPA ( $\geq 3.25$ )
- Professional Statement, including future career plans
- Three professional letters of recommendation (must be from professor(s) from Master's program and from supervisor(s) from professional settings)
- Two years of work experience preferred
- Successful completion of an interview
- Licensure and/or certification preferred

Requirements of Non-Counseling Students: In addition to meeting the standard requirements for admission into the Doctoral program, students entering the program with a master's degree in a different field must complete all of the prerequisite/entry level courses in counseling. These courses are currently offered within the current master's program. Completing these courses is a requirement of the Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP). CACREP's (2016) standards state that "During the doctoral program admissions process, students' curricular experiences are evaluated to verify completion of coursework including (a) CACREP entry-level core curricular standards, (b) CACREP entry-level professional practice standards, and (c) CACREP entry-level curricular requirements of a specialty area (e.g., addiction counseling, school counseling) so that any missing content can be completed before or concurrently with initial doctoral-level counselor education coursework" (p. 33).

Students graduating from a non-rehabilitation counseling master's program are required to register for the following prerequisite or co-requisite masters level courses: COUN 708, 743, and 764. The following pathways for entering the doctoral program are listed below:

If your master's degree is from a 48-hour CORE master's degree program in Rehabilitation Counseling or Clinical Rehabilitation Counseling, you will need to take the below prerequisite courses before and/or during your program of study.

- 12 additional credit hours (four courses) in counseling are needed.

If your master's degree is from a 60-hour CORE or CACREP master's degree program in Rehabilitation Counseling or Clinical Rehabilitation Counseling, you will need to take the below prerequisite courses before and/or during your program of study.

- No prerequisite courses are needed.

If your master's degree is from a 48-hour CACREP accredited master's degree program in Counseling, you will need to take the below prerequisite courses before and/or during your program of study.

- COUN 743, Medical and Psychosocial Aspects of Rehabilitation Counseling
- COUN 764, Caseload Management and Vocational Planning
- 12 additional credit hours (four courses) in counseling are needed.

If your master's degree is from a 60-hour CACREP accredited master's degree program in Counseling, you will need to take the below prerequisite courses before and/or during your program of study.

- COUN 743, Medical and Psychosocial Aspects of Rehabilitation Counseling
- COUN 764, Caseload Management and Vocational Planning

If your master's degree is in Clinical/Counseling Psychology or Social Work, you will need to take the below prerequisite courses before and/or during your program of study.

- Completion of coursework to include CACREP Core, Professional Practice, and Specialty area standards
- COUN 743, Medical and Psychosocial Aspects of Rehabilitation Counseling
- COUN 764, Caseload Management and Vocational Planning

Finally, applicants with greatest potential are invited to participate in a pre-admission interview with departmental faculty. Pre-admission interviews can include: (a) individual interviews, (b) group interaction with observation, and (c) on-site writing sample.

Orientation

A student orientation will be held in the fall (or summer) of each academic year. Orientation provides the newly admitted student the opportunity to obtain university and departmental/program information relevant to successful matriculation, meet and interact with program faculty, and establish connections with peers. Students are encouraged to participate in orientation to assure a more balanced beginning to graduate studies and begin integration into the Department. Orientation is provided by both the School of Graduate Studies and the specific counselor education program. Contact the department office or Graduate School for details.

Financial Aid and Graduate Assistantship Information

A limited number of Research Assistantships are available to qualified individuals. The student may receive tuition remission from the Graduate School while also being employed by a Department for twenty (20) hours per week for the duration of the assistantship. Graduate assistantships are available to graduate students who have been admitted to a degree program at NC A & T, maintain full time status, are in good academic standing, and are making satisfactory progress toward their degrees. A Graduate Assistantship is a form of apprenticeship and contributes to the student's professional development. Its primary purpose is to assist students in strengthening and successfully completing their academic program while developing research and other skills and supporting the mission of the Department. Doctoral students may also be considered for Teaching Assistantships in the Department as well. See the Graduate Catalog for a more thorough description of the types of assistantships and other relevant information.

Application for an assistantship and requests for other sources of financial assistance should be directed to the School of Graduate Studies, telephone: 285-2366 and see the Financial Aid website for additional information.

Program of Study

All graduate students are required to file a Plan of Study by the end of the second semester after admission to a program. Failure to submit the Plan of Study will prevent the student from enrolling in classes for his/her third semester. The student is expected to work collaboratively with the advisor to develop and complete the School of Graduate Studies Plan of Study form which will provide a blueprint of study tailored to the unique interests and pace of study identified by the student. The plan must be approved by the advisor, graduate coordinator and/or department chair. The student will receive a copy of the approved Plan of Study, another copy is maintained in the departmental student file, and the third copy is sent to the School of Graduate Studies. See the Graduate Bulletin for further instruction on completing the Plan of Study.

Responsibility for meeting all academic requirements rests with the student. Please note that students are not permitted to take more than four (4) courses online in accordance with accreditation standards. Full-time matriculation is considered three courses per semester and two courses per summer session.

Transfer of Credit

Students who would like to apply graduate course credit from another institution or program to the current degree must submit the Request for Transfer of Credit form. The Department may consider transfer of up to six (6) hours of graduate credit from an accredited university for courses in which the student has earned a grade of "B" or better. Credit hours used to fulfill the requirements of any previous degree program may not be transferred. The Request for Transfer of Credit must be approved by the advisor and the Department chairperson before being submitted to the Graduate School. The Department will not accept transfer course credit in lieu of major courses in the counselor education program. All required counseling courses must be completed at North Carolina A & T State University. See the Graduate Catalog for more details on transfer of credit.

Change of Program

Students who have been admitted to a counselor education program may request a change of program within counselor education. Students who desire a change of program must submit the Change of Program Form available at the Graduate School website and obtain the required approvals. Students requesting a change of program are also required to meet with the advisor. No change of program request will be reviewed in the first semester of enrollment.

Continuance in Counseling Programs

Once admitted to graduate study within the Department of Counseling, each student is expected to assume primary responsibility for adhering to departmental and university policies and for appropriate progress through the curriculum. It is strongly recommended that all students retain a copy of the university catalog under which admission was granted for future reference. The academic progress and professional development of each student is reviewed each semester in the counselor education Benchmarking process. Students who require a leave or withdrawal from the University should consult the relevant policies in the Graduate Catalog.

Program Academic Eligibility and Grades

A student will be required to maintain a semester GPA of at least 3.0 at the end of every semester irrespective of total attempted hours otherwise the student will be placed on academic probation for one semester in accordance with the policies outlined in the Graduate Catalog. If the semester GPA and/or the cumulative GPA at the end of the probationary semester remains less than 3.0, the student will be dismissed.

Beginning Fall 2015, some core counseling courses will require a grade of B or better. Students not earning a B or better in these specified courses will be required to retake the course. Failure to obtain a B or better on the second attempt will result in dismissal from the Graduate School. In addition, students removed from their practicum/internship site must get approval from the departmental chair before enrolling in the course a second time. Students may not enroll in the same field experience course more than twice.

See the Graduate Catalog on Graduate Grades and Grade Point Average. Also, see the Graduate Catalog for an additional listing of circumstances under which a student may be dismissed.

Placement, Passing, Repeating, and Dismissal from Practicum and Internship

Practicum and internship are considered essential experiences for successful completion of any master's or doctoral degree in counseling. As such, the goals of these field experiences (Master's Degree: COUN 784, 785 (formerly HDSV 780), 786 (formerly HDSV 790), & 787 (formerly HDSV 799) and Doctoral Degree: COUN 984 and 985 (formerly HDSV 885 and 895) are for the counseling student to develop an exhibit counseling skills, ethical behaviors, and a professional identity consistent with his or her counseling track and developmental level. Students will have no more than two opportunities to successfully pass the Practicum or Internship experiences. Reflecting the importance of these experiences, a grade of “B” or better is required to successfully complete the field experiences. Students are not permitted to enroll in the same field experience course more than twice. It should also be noted that students applying for the more time intensive COUN 787 (formerly HDSV 799 (combined internship I & II)) must show it on a previously approved Plan of Study and have the recommendation of their University Practicum Supervisor. COUN 787 is not available for students admitted Fall 2015 and after.

At any time, if the On-Site Supervisor and/or the University Supervisor deem that a student is not demonstrating satisfactory practicum/internship knowledge, skills, or dispositions, the student will be notified in writing and a remediation plan addressing areas of concern will be developed. If the student continues to display unsatisfactory knowledge, skills, and/or disposition he/she may be dismissed or terminated from the field experience site and transitioned from the counseling program.

If a student is removed from a field placement site, the following will apply:

- The student must get approval from the departmental chair before enrolling in the course a second time.
- The student cannot return to the site from which he/she was dismissed.
- The student will not be allowed to complete the clinical experience during the semester in which dismissed.
- The Counseling faculty, in accordance with departmental benchmarking procedures, will review a student removed from more than one site.
- Withdrawals from a practicum or internship site will be reviewed.

Confidentiality of Recordings and Transcripts

CACREP (2016) requires counseling programs to include “program-appropriate audio/video recordings and/or live supervision of students’ interactions with clients” during supervision of practicum and internship students. Prior to taping, each person being recorded must sign a Consent to Record Form. In addition to using a site provided form (if available), all students are required to use the Department of Counseling Consent to Record form. Students are only allowed to record on departmental issued recording devices, which are password protected.

1. Prior to beginning any recording, you are to explain the parameters as outlined in the consent form.
2. Keep in mind that if recording minors under the age of 18, parental consent is required. Also, every group participant is required to sign a consent form if you decide to tape a group.
3. There must be two copies of the Consent Form. Please sign both copies and have the client sign both copies. One copy is for your file and one copy is for the client.

4. Once you have recorded a session, you are required to keep this recording in a locked and secure location (desk, file cabinet, etc.) when not in use.
5. The digital recorder is only to be transported to supervision with the university supervisor along with the corresponding consent form for the client of the recording to class. (The university supervisor will specify when to bring recorder to session review).
6. At the end of the semester, you will erase your recordings as well as delete any electronic or paper copies of any session content. Student will sign a form confirming this at the conclusion of the semester when the recorder is returned to the Practicum/Internship Coordinator.

Time Limitations

According to the policy of the School of Graduate Studies, students enrolled in master's degree programs must complete their program requirements within six (6) successive calendar years. Any variations need to be approved by the Graduate School Dean. Doctoral students must complete their program requirements within ten (10) successive calendar years. See the Graduate Catalog for additional information.

Retention Standards

The 2016 accreditation standards of the Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP) state in Section I: The Learning Environment: Structure and Evaluation, Standard O that "Counselor education programs have and follow a policy for student retention, remediation, and dismissal from the program consistent with institutional due process policies and with the counseling profession's ethical codes and standards of practice" (p.5). In keeping with these standards, along with the standards set forth by the Council on Rehabilitation Education (CORE) and the American Rehabilitation Counseling Association (ARCA), the Department of Counseling has developed a policy on student retention.

The Graduate Catalog of North Carolina A&T State University and the Counseling Student Handbook of the Department of Counseling provide general guidelines for student department and matriculation. Students are expected to read these materials and govern themselves in accordance with all university and departmental policies.

The Department of Counseling faculty maintain a commitment to quality instruction and training of professional counselors and have an ethical obligation to the profession and the community to ensure that persons who are graduated meet professional standards of preparation. Unfortunately, it is possible that not all students are capable of becoming competent counseling professionals or counselor educators who will maintain the standards of the profession. Students who exhibit behaviors inconsistent with institutional or professional standards (as outlined under the Ethical Standards of the American Counseling Association and/or the Commission on Rehabilitation Counselor Certification, the Graduate Catalog, and as reiterated in this document) will be dismissed from the program in accordance with policies outlined in this handbook.

Student Matriculation – Request for Leave of Absence and Withdrawal

Once admitted to the program and enrolled for the first time, a student must maintain continuous registration (each semester excluding summer sessions) until all degree requirements are completed. Students must be enrolled at A & T during the semester of graduation. Any student, who does not enroll for two consecutive semesters excluding summer, will be terminated from the program, unless a Leave of Absence is requested by the student and approved by the Department and the School of Graduate Studies. To continue graduate study after a termination, the student must reapply for admission and meet all current standards.

Students in good academic standing may request a Leave of Absence from the Graduate School if a special circumstance exists. A student may also withdraw from the University at any time during the semester and shall complete and file official withdrawal forms with the Office of the Registrar. Students who do not process withdrawal forms in a timely manner will receive a grade of “F” in each course in which he/she is enrolled. See the Graduate Catalog for the Leave of Absence policy and procedure for withdrawal from the University as well as the Readmission Policy. See Graduate School policy on returning to Graduate Study after one semester of absence and after an absence of more than one semester.

Ethical Conduct Policy and Academic Dishonesty

Ethical conduct is the hallmark of the counseling profession. The Department of Counseling at North Carolina A&T State University fully endorses the Ethical Standards of the American Counseling Association and the Academic Dishonesty Policy of the University. All students are expected to conduct themselves in an ethical, responsible, and professional manner in accordance with both professional and University standards. University policy as stated in the Academic Dishonesty Policy contained in the Graduate Catalog reads as follows:

North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University is committed to a policy of academic honesty for all students. Examples of Academic Dishonesty include but are not limited to:

- Cheating or knowingly assisting another student in committing an act of academic dishonesty;
- Plagiarism (unauthorized use of another person’s words or ideas as one’s own) which includes but is not limited to submitting examinations, theses, reports, drawings, laboratory notes or other materials as one’s own work when such work has been prepared by another person or copied from another person;
- Unauthorized possession of examinations or reserve library materials, destruction or hiding of source materials, library materials, or laboratory materials or experiments or any other similar action;
- Unauthorized changing of grades or marking on an examination or in an instructor’s grade book, or such change of any grade record;
- Aiding or abetting in the infraction of any of the provisions anticipated under the general standards of student conduct; or

- Assisting another student in violating any of the above rules.

A student who has committed an act of academic dishonesty has failed to meet a basic requirement of satisfactory academic performance. Thus, academic dishonesty is not only a basis for disciplinary action but may also affect the evaluation of the student's level of performance. Any student who commits an act of academic dishonesty is subject to disciplinary action as defined below.

In instances where a student has clearly been identified as having committed an academic act of dishonesty, the instructor may take appropriate punitive action including a loss of credit for an assignment, an examination or project, or award a grade of "F" for the course subject to the review and endorsement of the chairperson and the dean. Repeated offenses can even lead to dismissal from the University.

In addition, the Department of Counseling does not tolerate any unethical conduct. Violations of ethical conduct are addressed in accord with the departmental ethical standards and benchmarking process. Students who violate sound ethical practice jeopardize their standing in the department. See the Department of Counseling Retention Policy. Students are expected to document papers and presentations thoroughly in accordance with the Publications Manual of the American Psychological Association.

Professional Codes of Ethics and Standards of Practice

As pre-professional counselors, graduate students abide by the code of ethics and standards of practice as described in the Ethical Standards of the American Counseling Association (ACA), the Commission on Rehabilitation Counselor Certification (CRCC), The American Psychological Association, the Student Handbook, the Graduate Catalog, and the Department of Counseling Ethical Conduct Policy. Therefore, professional maturity is expected of all students. Students who violate sound ethical practice jeopardize their standing in the department. Behaviors that may indicate professional impairment include, but are not limited to the following:

- Confirmed threat of harm to self or others;
- Discriminatory behaviors or harassment toward others on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, gender, age, or disability;
- Unwillingness to receive feedback or resistance to evaluation from superiors and/or failure to modify unprofessional behaviors;
- Chronic physical or emotional problems which mediate the student's ability to meet program requirements subject to disability law. Characteristics deemed crucial to personal and professional development include:
  1. Openness
  2. Flexibility
  3. Ability to establish cooperative relationships with others
  4. Willingness to accept and implement feedback

5. Awareness of one's impact on others
  6. Ability to deal with conflict effectively
  7. Appropriate expression of feelings
  8. Maturity
  9. Empathy
  10. Capacity to manage stress
  11. Tolerance for differences
  12. Integrity and professional responsibility
- Habitual tardiness to class or field placement;
  - Habitual unexcused absences from class or field placement;
  - Disruptive/disrespectful behavior toward colleagues, faculty, staff, peers, or clients including tone in emails;
  - Consistent failure to demonstrate interpersonal skills necessary to form effective professional and therapeutic relationships as indicated by the list above;
  - Failure to use acceptable American Psychological Association style documentation including plagiarism and other failure to document sources in research reports;
  - Falsifying documents;
  - Quality of writing and scholarship not consistent with graduate level work;
  - Inappropriate attire;
  - Any other professional behavior not in accordance with the departmental Ethical Conduct Policy and the Ethical Standards of the American Counseling Association;
  - The failure to follow other University policies and procedures

Outcomes of the Violation of Standards

Consequences of violation of the codes of conduct or ethical standards of practice include but are not limited to one or more of the following:

- Dismissal from the program
- Removal from the course or the field placement and a grade of "F" or "U"
- Referral to authorized campus authorities for further discipline.

The Benchmarking Review Process

Once each academic semester a benchmarking review of all enrolled students is conducted by the faculty. The benchmarking committee is comprised of all full-time tenured and tenure-track counseling faculty and is chaired by a faculty member. Adjunct faculty members are also invited to attend the benchmarking review.

Reviews are conducted using the Benchmarking Assessment Rubric which focuses on academic performance, ethical behavior, and professional disposition. Each student will be notified in writing by the Department Chairperson regarding the outcome of the benchmarking review and a copy will be placed in the student's file. Students who receive an unsatisfactory evaluation will be placed on probation, provided with a remediation plan, and given one semester to implement the remediation plan in order to improve their performance to a satisfactory level. A subsequent unsatisfactory evaluation after the probationary period will result in dismissal from the program.

Unsatisfactory Review

Students about whom faculty members have questions or concerns receive a letter directing them to their advisors for further explanation. Advisors are responsible for describing to students any questions or concerns and related plans of action evolving out of the benchmarking committee process. The benchmarking committee collaborates with the advisor to develop a plan of action to help students address questions or concerns and the student works with the advisor to develop an intervention plan which the student implements. The student may ask the advisor for assistance as appropriate. In some circumstances, the student may be asked to meet with the chair.

Review under Extraordinary Circumstances

In addition to the regularly scheduled Benchmark review by the faculty, review of student behavior may be initiated from several sources including student complaints or evaluations, faculty/administrator observations, and site supervisor evaluations or complaints. Complainants should direct concerns to the Chairperson who will arrange an informal review with the complainant, and the student. If the behavior is not corrected or if the severity warrants, a formal complaint (in writing) to the chairperson should be initiated by the complainant. The department chairperson will then send a copy of the complaint to the student, meet with the student to issue the discipline or forward the complaint to the Department of Counseling Benchmarking Committee to evaluate the merit of the complaint and conduct additional investigation as needed. The committee will forward their recommendation to the chair. The chairperson will notify the student and the advisor (in writing) of the outcome.

A student who wishes to rebut a benchmarking decision should refer to the Grievance Policy in this handbook and to the Graduate Catalog policy on Graduate Student Appeals.

The Dismissal Process

As stated in the Retention Policy, the Benchmarking Review process, and according to the Graduate Catalog, departments may recommend dismissal of a student. Students to be dismissed from the program begin the process with a conference with the advisor followed by a conference with the department chairperson. The sessions are intended to bring closure to the review process and assist the student in exploring other options. (See the Graduate Catalog on Academic Warning, Academic Probation, and Dismissal from the University).

Registration

Every fall and spring, a time is set aside for students to receive advisement and to register for courses for the following semester. The specific dates for advisement and early registration are identified in the academic calendar that is published each semester online. Students should meet with their advisors to discuss course selections. Advisors will provide each advisee his or her PIN (Personal Identification Number), which have been assigned by the University Registrar. Following advisement, students may register online using Aggie Access and their PINs (found in the Current Students menu on www.ncat.edu). Aggie Access enables students to register for classes, drop classes, review financial aid information, and view their academic record including final course grades. Complete registration instructions, including Aggie Access instructions, are available through the Registrar's office. Students are responsible for keeping up with their PINs once they are established in the Aggie Access system.

Note 1: All graduate students must maintain continuous registration during fall and spring semesters or be subject to the Graduate School policy on re-enrollment. Students who have completed all coursework with the exception of taking the Comprehensive Examination and/or applying for graduation must enroll for the given semester in which the Comprehensive Examination (COUN 788, formerly HDSV 788) will be taken or the student plans to graduate.

Note 2: All major courses must be taken in the counseling program at NC A&T State University. Courses in the counseling program are sequential. Prerequisites for a given course must be completed prior to enrolling in the course. See the Graduate Catalog and the website of the Office of the Registrar for detailed information on registration.

Advisement

Once admitted to the department, each student is assigned an academic advisor based on his or her degree program and concentration within the department. If you do not have an advisor at the time of Orientation, contact your program Coordinator or the Department Chairperson right away.

The academic advising process serves to:

1. Assist students in planning a program of vocational interest and professional study.
2. Identify student learning blocks and related obstacles to career or educational progress and provide mentoring as recommended by the benchmarking process.
3. Recognize students' skills, abilities, aptitudes, and interests leading to appropriate career selection.
4. Periodically assess student's academic progress and career goals.
5. Advise and recommend student course selection taking into account appropriate sequence and required pre-requisites.
6. Advise students of all requirements for graduation.
7. Refer students to appropriate remedial developmental services.
8. Provide students with any other assistance deemed necessary.
9. Prepare students to register for courses each semester.

Students will not change advisors unless so directed and approved by the department chairperson. All departmental advising is done in accordance with the University Academic Advisement Handbook.

Adding/Dropping Courses or Withdrawing from Program of Study

Students should pay attention to the University Academic Calendar for drop/add dates during the semester. This calendar is available on the University's academic calendar. If your name does not appear on the class roll called by your professor, it is your responsibility to go to the Registrar's office immediately to resolve the problem. No student is permitted to remain in class whose name does not appear on the class roll. Further, students are responsible for dropping all courses which they do not intend to take. Students who remain on the roll must receive a grade. In addition, students will not be permitted to withdraw from more than 16 credit hours without penalty. The University will not permit a student to register for a course more than twice.

Liability Insurance

Liability insurance is required for all students enrolled in practicum, internship, and any other course that requires field placement in which students provide counseling services.

Personal Counseling Requirement

Policy Statement. All students admitted to the counseling program in the Department of Counseling[1] are required to participate in a minimum of three (3) individual counseling sessions. This requirement must be fulfilled prior to completion of COUN 707, 708, or 704 for master's students or COUN 989 – Advanced Seminar in Theories, Group, and Career Counseling for doctoral students. Students who do not complete the Personal Counseling Requirement will not be able to enroll subsequent courses.

Rationale. We can learn about the role of the counselor and the counseling process in many ways. Some of these ways are through reading, lectures by professors, listening to audio materials, viewing video, studying descriptions provided by clients and ex-clients, role-playing, viewing live counseling sessions and by being a counselor and a client.

In addition to the variety of classroom and clinical learning experiences provided in the program, you are expected to experience being a client in a counseling relationship with a licensed professional counselor. This experience can be one of the highlights of your counselor education program if you take seriously the inherent potential in the experience and commit yourself to the process.

Counselors accept that all individuals experience both the challenge of the problems they cannot resolve alone and the challenge of opportunities they cannot fully fathom. It is normal and natural for people to experience difficulties in dealing with others as well as in dealing with themselves. Issues may include developing and reaching special goals, educational choice, career choice, and personal and social matters. Often issues arise from relating to others (interpersonal) and relating to oneself (intrapersonal).

Ultimately, our personal and professional development is defined by the way we handle these concerns; some of us with some of these matters and some people with all of them. It is a rare person who is calm and assured in knowing within him or herself that they are experiencing the richest and fullest life of which they are capable. The counseling requirement is intended to assist students in the exploration of themselves and enhancing personal choices and relationships with others.

The Counseling Process. As counseling professionals, we understand that the content of the counseling sessions must be held in strict confidence between the student and the counselor. Consequently, there will be no sharing of information between the counselor and the program unless the counselor deems exceptions to confidentiality.

Students may work with any counselor of their choice in the counseling experience. This includes private practice, agency, and University counselors. The counselor must be a licensed professional counselor. Students are required to complete a minimum of three (3) individual counseling sessions with the counselor.

Each student is responsible for submitting the Completion of Personal Counseling Requirement Form to the Department office indicating that the three (3) session requirement has been met.

Comprehensive Examination

Master's Students

Upon completion of all required curriculum courses (not including electives) students will apply to take the Comprehensive Examination. Students will not be allowed to take the Counseling Comprehensive Examination unless all professional core courses have been taken excluding COUN 785 (formerly HDSV 780) and COUN 786 (formerly HDSV 790) or COUN 787 (formerly HDSV 799). Students must complete the Application for Comprehensive Exam form and be cleared by their advisor by the end of the third week of classes in the semester in which they intend to take the exam.

The CPCE examination is a standardized test developed by the Center for Credentialing in Education (CCE) of the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC) and is the required test for all counseling master's students beginning Fall 2016. The exam format is multiple choice and covers eight curricular areas: (a) Human Growth and Development, (b) Social and Cultural Foundations, (c) The Helping Relationship (counseling process and theory), (d) Group Work, (e) Career and Lifestyle Development, (f) Appraisal, (g) Research and Program Evaluation, and (h) Professional Orientation (ethics and professional history).

Students may take the Comprehensive Examination (CPCE) no more than twice and must pass the Comprehensive Examination in order to graduate. The PRAXIS or the CRC exam cannot be taken in lieu of the designated comprehensive exam.

Students requesting special accommodation for the Comprehensive Exam must register with the NCAT Office of Disability Services at least 30 days in advance of initial test administration.

Applications to take the exam may be picked up at the Counseling office or are available on the department website. Consult the Department staff or your advisor regarding the exam dates and location each semester. Staff can also provide information on the cost of the exam and due dates for fees.

Doctoral Students

Each student in the program is required to complete a Comprehensive Preliminary examination upon completion of their core courses with the exception of internship and the dissertation courses. The two-day comprehensive examination is threefold. One domain of the evaluation assesses the student's knowledge in research methodology. The second domain assesses the student's knowledge in Professional Practice. In addition to the research and professional practice component, students are also required to complete an oral component. The student is required to complete and pass the comprehensive examination to advance to candidacy. Students are required to enroll in a non-credit hour comprehensive examination course in which a grade of "Satisfactory" or "Unsatisfactory" is earned. More information about the PhD Comprehensive Examination Process can be found in the doctoral section of this handbook.

Graduation Requirements for Master's Students

The following requirements must be fulfilled in order to graduate:

1. The Comprehensive Examination must be taken and passed.
2. Completion of coursework required for student's specific track (School Counseling, Mental Health Counseling - Clinical, Mental Health Counseling - Rehabilitation) with a 3.0 or better grade point average overall and a 3.0 or better grade point average in the student's professional core courses. Students must complete all fieldwork with a grade of B or better.
3. Submit the application for graduation with the required approvals to the School of Graduate Studies. Applications for graduation are available at the School of Graduate Studies website and are due by the date specified in the University calendar each semester.

Graduation Requirements for Certificate Students

The following requirements must be fulfilled in order to graduate with a certificate:

1. Admission to the Certificate by the Graduate School
2. Submission of the Certificate Plan of Study
3. Successful completion of all required certificate courses as identified by program with a 3.0 or better grade point average overall.
4. Submit the application for graduation with the required approvals to the School of Graduate Studies. Applications are available at the School of Graduate Studies website and are due by the date specified in the University calendar each semester.

Graduation Requirements for Doctoral Students

The following requirements must be fulfilled in order to graduate:

1. Successful completion of the Preliminary/Comprehensive Examination.
2. Completion of coursework required for with a 3.0 or better grade point average overall and a 3.0 or better grade point average in the student's professional core courses (required for all courses but electives). Students must complete all fieldwork with a grade of B or better.
3. Successful completion and defense of the Dissertation Prospectus
4. Successful completion and defense of the Dissertation
5. Submit the application for graduation with the required approvals to the School of Graduate Studies. Applications for graduation are available at the School of Graduate Studies website and are due by the date specified in the University calendar each semester.

Endorsement Policy

The Department stipulates endorsement for employment or credentialing only in the program area in which a student received training. Students are encouraged to adhere to the American Counseling Code (ACA) of Ethics by applying for certification and licensure corresponding their scope of practice. Department faculty adhere to the 2014 American Counseling Association Code of Ethics endorsement which states "Supervisors endorse supervisees for certification, licensure, employment, or completion of an academic or training program only when they believe that supervisees are qualified for the endorsement. Regardless of qualifications, supervisors do not endorse supervisees whom they believe to be impaired in any way that would interfere with the performance of the duties associated with the endorsement (Section F.6.d). In addition to adhering to the ACA Code of Ethics, Mental Health Counseling-Rehabilitation students must also adhere to the Commission on Rehabilitation Counselor Certification (CRCC) Code of Ethics (2010) which contains similar language in Section H.5.d.

Faculty evaluate students at different levels of the student's matriculation through the program to assess continuous endorsement to include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Benchmarking
- Course grades
- Clinical Experiences (Practicum/Internship)
- Graduation Clearance

Additionally, faculty consider the following as examples of endorsement:

- Completing and signing forms for licensure and certification
- Providing letters of recommendation to potential employers/institutions of higher education
- Providing verbal recommendations to potential employers/institutions of higher education
- Thus, it is the ethical responsibility of faculty members to endorse only those students who possess the required skills, personal qualities, maturity, and mental capacities to engage in the requisite activities for their level of training and personal and professional development.

Faculty consider the student's academic performance, ethical behavior, emotional impairment, and professional disposition when endorsing students. At any time, department faculty reserve the right to exercise their refusal to endorse any student who meets the ACA Code of Ethics (2014) definition for student impairment.

Policy on Student Gifts

For ethical reasons, the Department recommends that students not give gifts to faculty.

Grievance Procedures

Grade Appeal

A conflict between a graduate student and a professor should begin with open communication. If resolution is not achieved, the student may meet with the department's chairperson. According to the Graduate Catalog, "a graduate student who is unable to resolve issues with the course professor and/or department chairperson has thirty (30) calendar days from the date on which grades are due (as specified on the Registrar's academic calendar) for the relevant semester or summer session, or thirty (30) calendar days after the adverse decision at the departmental level to file an appeal with the dean of the School of Graduate Studies". The Graduate Appeals Committee (GAC) of the Graduate Council considers grade appeals from graduate students.

There are two grounds for appealing a grade: (1) evidence of miscalculation, and (2) material deviation from information published in the course syllabus without adequate notice of the change. See the Graduate Catalog for additional and specific details on grade appeal.

Appeal of Dismissal from the Program

Students who are dismissed from the program may submit a written appeal to the School of Graduate Studies Graduate Appeals Committee within thirty (30) days of the adverse decision. See the Graduate Catalog for details of an appeal of dismissal.

Appeal of Termination of Graduate Assistantship

The Assistantships and Fellowship Committee of the Graduate Council considers appeals of termination of Graduate Assistantships. Before filing a grievance, the student is expected to attempt to resolve the matter with the faculty member, departmental chairperson, and the dean of the academic unit. See the Graduate Catalog for details on the amount of time to file and other guidelines on grievances in this area.

Student Organizations

Chi Sigma Iota Honor Society (CSI)

Formed in January of 1985, Chi Sigma Iota is an International Counseling Academic and Professional Honor Society. It was established in order to create a link between students, educators, practitioners and supervisors in various counseling settings. The objective of Chi Sigma Iota is “to promote scholarship, research, professionalism and excellence in counseling, and to recognize high attainment in the pursuit of academic and clinical excellence in the field of counseling.” The Alpha Tau Omega Chapter at North Carolina A&T State University meets throughout the year under the leadership of elected students and the designated Faculty Advisor who serves as a liaison with the national office. The Chapter sponsors the Graduate Research poster session at the annual Fall Family Counseling Conference and initiates various campus and community projects. Students interested in joining Chi Sigma Iota must have a 3.5 or better GPA and at least 18 hours of graduate course credit. For additional information, contact Dr. Angel Dowden and Dr. Natalie Spencer, the chapter's advisors.

Rehabilitation Counseling Association

Formed in 2005, the Rehabilitation Counseling Association (RCA) was created for students to learn more about the profession and to network with local rehabilitation counselors and people with disabilities within their career paths. The mission of the Rehabilitation Counseling Association is to offer opportunities where students may gain increased public understanding of professional interests by fostering an open forum, promoting and encouraging the development of professional training opportunities for all persons engaged in the counseling of persons with disabilities, contributing to an interdisciplinary approach to the solution of problems in rehabilitation, fostering research to advance knowledge and skills in rehabilitation counseling, and developing relationships that will be beneficial to enhance professional identity. For additional information, contact Dr. Glacia Ethridge, the chapter's advisors

Counseling Credentials

Counseling Certification

The National Board for Certified Counselors, Inc. (NBCC) is a nonprofit independent organization that establishes and monitors a national counselor certification process. It was created in 1982 through the efforts of the American Counseling Association to promote professional credentialing standards for counselors. NBCC provides a national standard in the counseling profession that can be used as a measure of professionalism. Through its certification programs, counselors certified by NBCC earn the designation National Certified Counselor (NCC). NBCC offers several routes to national certification. Eligibility depends upon a number of factors:

Requirements for the National Certified Counselor (NCC) credential:

1. A master's degree in counseling from a regionally accredited university with a minimum of 48 semester or 72 quarter hours with counseling courses in:

- Counseling Theory
- Human Growth and Development
- Social and Cultural Foundations
- Helping Relationships
- Group Work
- Career and Lifestyle Development
- Appraisal
- Research and Program Evaluation
- Professional Orientation and Ethics
- Internship*

*Two academic terms of supervised field experiences in a counseling setting

2. Two years of post-master's counseling experience (3,000 hours) with 100 hours of face-to-face supervision by a National Certified Counselor (NCC) or other mental health professional approved by the board. This experience may be obtained within a 3 year time period.
3. Two professional references, one being from a recent supervisor.
4. Pass the National Counselor Examination for Licensure and Certification (NCE).

Counselors who meet the NBCC's standards and obtain certification are required to maintain and renew certification through continuing education.

The National Board for Certified Counselors, Inc., (NBCC) is located at: 3 Terrace Way, Suite D, Greensboro, NC 27403-3660.

Counseling Licensure

Different states have different requirements for counseling licensure. The state of North Carolina requires the individual applying for licensure to take and pass the National Counseling Examination as part of the licensure process. (This is the same exam required for NBCC certification.)

For more detailed information concerning counseling licensure in the state of North Carolina contact the North Carolina Board of Licensed Professional Counselors (www.ncblpc.org), 7D Terrace Way Greensboro, NC 27403. Phone: 844-622-3572 or 336-217-6007.

Graduates are also eligible for counseling licensure in other states. Please refer to the desired state's licensure board for specific details on required license components.

Master's Programs In Counseling

Mental Health Counseling-Clinical
Mental Health Counseling-Rehabilitation School Counseling

Mental Health Counseling - Clinical

School/College: College of Education
Degree Offered: Master of Science
Graduate Coordinator: Dr. Patricia Bethea-Whitfield
Email: betheap@ncat.edu Phone: (336) 334-7916

This program is a 60 credit hour non-certification program designed for the individual who is interested in a professional counseling career in the public or private setting including higher education.

The Mental Health Counseling-Clinical program has the following program objectives:

- To create an understanding of the foundations of mental health counseling in the clinical setting including trends; roles, functions, and standards of practice and credentialing of community counselors; policies and laws, ethical and legal considerations (e.g. the ACA Code of Ethics); and diversity issues.
- To establish the contextual dimensions of mental health counseling in the clinical setting relative to roles in various practice settings and relative other professionals in those settings; organizational dimensions of community organizations; needs assessment; and community intervention, consultation, education and outreach.

This program is a 60 credit hour program designed for the individual who seeks professional counseling careers in rehabilitation settings including state and private rehabilitation agencies. The Mental Health Counseling – Rehabilitation program is designed to prepare culturally competent counselors who specialize in working with persons with physical, developmental, cognitive, psychological, and neurological disabilities and/or illnesses. Students are equipped with knowledge, skills, and experience to empower persons with disabilities through the counseling process. Students are further equipped with unique skills to provide effective rehabilitation counseling services within a cultural context. Students are eligible to take the Certified Rehabilitation Counselor (CRC) exam once 75% of their course work is completed.

The Mental Health – Rehabilitation program has the following objectives:

- To equip students with knowledge, skills, and experiences to empower persons with disabilities through the counseling process
- To increase the student's knowledge of the role and functions of rehabilitation counselors
- To equip students with unique skills to provide effective rehabilitation counseling services within a cultural context
- To enhance the student's knowledge of the needs and associated resources to meet the evolving needs of persons with disabilities
- To prepare students to obtain professional licensure and certification in the profession of rehabilitation counseling
- To prepare students to address professional issues in Rehabilitation Counseling through professional associations, publications, and professional development
- To prepare students to work in a variety of public and private settings in the rehabilitation counseling profession

Additionally, this program offers extensive fieldwork, including one practicum and two internship experiences. Each student is placed in a rehabilitation setting successfully completing the 100 hours of Practicum and 600 hours of Internship. The program also offers 12 hours of electives.

Students who do not have a formal special education background are required to take a graduate level (600 and above) course. The recommended special education elective is SPED 748 – Diagnostic Assessment and IEP Development.

Students who would like a global experience can take the International Experience in Human Development and Services Courses as electives.

Practicum and Internships

Practicum and Internships I and II involve supervised professional experiences in settings appropriate to the student's vocational objectives. These field experiences will provide practical work in the student's area of specialization. Both site supervision and university supervision components are required for each field experience. For more detailed information on the requirements for practicum and internship, please see the Practicum and Internship Manual.

Each practicum requires 100 clock hours of field experience. 40 of these hours are direct contact hours (10 of which are group hours) and 60 are non-direct contact hours. Practicum settings are selected by the student and approved by the advisor, Practicum and Internship Coordinator, and Departmental Chair.

Similarly, each internship experience includes 300 hours of field experience. 120 of these hours are direct contact hours and 180 are indirect hours. Internship settings are selected by the student and approved by the advisor, Practicum and Internship Coordinator, and Departmental Chair.

Double Majors in School Counseling, Mental Health Counseling-Clinical, and Mental Health Counseling-Rehabilitation

A graduate student enrolled in the master's program in School Counseling, Mental Health Counseling-Clinical or Mental Health Counseling-Rehabilitation may earn a second degree in counseling by enrolling concurrently in another counselor education track at the University. In accordance with the Graduate Catalog, "a student must apply to and be accepted by both programs before officially beginning the double degree program" (p.43). A student should either apply for and be accepted by both programs at the time of admission or apply for and be accepted to the second program by the end of the second semester* in the first degree program. The University will not award a double degree if the curricular requirements for both programs have already been met without initial application.

In addition to earning the 60 hours required for the initial degree, students accepted to the double major must complete an internship in both degree areas and must fulfill the prerequisite requirements of all courses. Courses in the Double Major cannot be used as electives in the initial degree. Double major course requirements are identified below:

Certificate Programs

The Counseling program has several post-baccalaureate certificates that are currently available. Current students from the Mental Health Counseling – Clinical, Mental Health – Rehabilitation, and School Counseling tracks from North Carolina A & T State University are eligible to apply for the certificate programs. Please note that prerequisites may be required. The certificates offer additional coursework in a specialty area of study. For more information on each certificate, please see detailed descriptions below. Interested candidates are advised to contact representative faculty members or their advisor for more information.

Post-Baccalaureate Certificates

Students formally admitted in a Department of Counseling program are eligible to apply for the following certificate programs:

- a.) Marriage and Family Counseling,
- b.) Rehabilitation Counseling and Behavioral Addiction,
- c.) Rehabilitation Psychology and Behavioral Medicine, and
- d.) Vocational Evaluation and Work Adjustment.

It is necessary to apply for these certificate programs through the Graduate School. All regular application fees and requirements apply. Students are eligible to apply at any point during their master's degree counseling matriculation. Prospective candidates may be asked to participate in an interview process. Please note that the Trauma Informed Care and Behavioral Health certificate is not available to master's students.

Post-Master's Certificates

Helping professionals with a master's degree in counseling or a related field are eligible to apply for the following certificates:

- a.) Marriage and Family Counseling,
- b.) Rehabilitation Counseling and Behavioral Addiction,
- c.) Rehabilitation Psychology and Behavioral Medicine,
- d.) Vocational Evaluation and Work Adjustment.

The deadline for the certificate applications are October 15th and February 15th. Prospective candidates may be asked to participate in an interview process.

Mission

The Doctor of Philosophy in Rehabilitation Counseling and Rehabilitation Counselor Education is designed to prepare culturally competent students to work as counselor educators, researchers, clinicians, and supervisors in academic and non-academic settings. In addition to establishing a core foundation in rehabilitation counseling and research, major emphasis is provided in the area of Trauma and Trauma Informed Care. The primary educational objectives of the program are: a) to increase students' knowledge of the role and functions of rehabilitation counselor educators, researchers, and counselors, b) to equip students with unique counseling and research skills to provide effective rehabilitation counseling, education, and research within a cultural context, c) to prepare students to obtain content knowledge in cultural diversity, trauma informed care, and additional expertise in specific areas in rehabilitation education, d) to equip students with knowledge, skills, and experiences to increase the body of research addressing diversity, social justice, and disability issues, and e) to prepare students to address professional issues and become leaders and researchers in rehabilitation counselor education and disability research through professional associations, publications, and professional development.

The Council on Rehabilitation Education (CORE) and the Council on the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Programs (CACREP) are the only two accreditation agencies in counseling. CORE currently accredits undergraduate and master's level programs. CACREP accredits master's and doctoral programs in counseling. The doctoral program's curriculum and clinical experiences are aligned with CACREP. Pursuit of CACREP Accreditation will occur during the second year of the program.

Objectives

- To increase students' knowledge of the role and functions of rehabilitation counselor educators, researchers, and counselors.
- To equip students with unique counseling and research skills to provide effective rehabilitation counseling, education, and research within a cultural context.
- To prepare students to obtain content knowledge in cultural diversity, trauma informed care, and additional expertise in specific areas in rehabilitation education.

- To equip students with knowledge, skills, and experience, to increase the body of research addressing diversity, social justice, and disability issues.
- To prepare students to address professional issues and become leaders and research in rehabilitation counselor education and disability research in rehabilitation counselor education and disability research through professional associations, publications, and professional development.

Program Outcomes:

- Critical Thinking: Students will develop skills and attitudes of effective thinking that employ the use of thoughtful reflection and logical inquiry to draw evidence-based conclusions as they relate to community counseling.
- Oral Communication Skills: Students will demonstrate proficiency in communicating in individual dyads and small and large group settings and in appropriate use of grammar to communicate counseling findings, while avoiding sexist language, doublespeak and clichés. Evaluation occurs during the benchmarking process. Students must receive a satisfactory rating from the majority of faculty to earn a satisfactory rating. Faculty will evaluate 100% of the student population.
- Written Communication: Students will demonstrate proficiency in academic and scientific writing, which includes avoiding digressions, consistent tenses, using the active voice and citing sources as well as findings, professional documentation, and report writing: with emphasis on APA publishing guidelines.
- Cultural Self-Awareness and Sensitivity: Students will demonstrate awareness of self, including knowledge of macro, micro, and meso-ecological systems.
- Cultural Competence: Students will demonstrate an understanding of the cultural context of relationships, issues, and trends in a multicultural society.
- Ethical Practice: Students will demonstrate understanding and application of relevant professional ethical standards.
- Professionalism: Students will demonstrate professional maturity, integrity, and discipline consistent with professional standards of practice.
- Research and Design: Graduate community counseling students will demonstrate proficiency in designing quantitative, qualitative, single case designs, action, and outcome based research, as well as co-occurring and support software packages (e.g., SPSS). Students will understand ethics surrounding Human Subjects Social and Behavioral Science research procedures and Responsible Conduct in Research.

- Research Evaluation: Students will demonstrate proficiency in evaluating empirical and nonempirical research. Students will be able to review the professional literature and glean from the review relevant information for both research and practice. Students will be able to evaluate research and its application to field experiences. Students will develop a research paper that reflects their knowledge of this content. The specifics of the research paper along with the grading rubric are presented in the achievement summary.
- Statistics: Students will demonstrate proficiency in basic statistics methods including scales of measurement, measures of central tendency, indices of variability, shapes and type of distributions, correlations, reliability and validity. Students will apply supportive software packages (e.g., MS Excel, SPSS).
- Technological Competence: Students will demonstrate proficiency in implementing best technology practices.

Students are equipped with effective tools to identify, understand, write, and manage available grants. Prerequisite: None. (F;S;SS)

COUN 830 - Design Methodology and Implementation

This research course provides students with core knowledge and skills for understanding, analyzing, and designing research at the doctoral level using quantitative, qualitative, and mixed method research designs. Prerequisite: COUN 815. (F;S;SS)

COUN 840 - Advanced Group Counseling (LAB)***

This course provides doctoral students with advanced knowledge in theories and experiential practice regarding group counseling and process. Prerequisite: COUN 818. (F;S;SS)

COUN 850 - Foundations of Trauma Informed Care and Crisis Management

This course prepares students to learn about the prevalence of different types and diagnostic criteria for trauma across populations and the fundamental aspects of trauma informed care as a best practice philosophy to counseling and service provision. Prerequisite: None. (F;S;SS)

COUN 860 - Family Violence

This course provides clinical theory on the assessment and treatment of different forms of family violence (e.g., child maltreatment, intimate partner violence, adult survivors of abuse) from a trauma-informed care perspective. Safety planning and treatment modalities, including when to use single versus conjoint treatment, are reviewed in detail so that students are well-equipped to address these issues in their places of employment. Prerequisite: None. (SS)

COUN 865 - Analysis of Qualitative Research

This course explores advanced principles of qualitative research and approaches in counseling and development, including grounded theory, phenomenology, case study, and ethnography. Prerequisites: COUN 830. (F;S;SS)

COUN 870 - Models and Methods of Assessment

This course addresses needs assessment, formative research, process evaluation, monitoring of outputs and outcomes, impact assessment, experimental, quasi-experimental, and non-experimental study designs. A minimum grade of "B" must be earned. Prerequisite: COUN 830. (SS)

COUN 875 - Advanced Linear Modeling***

This advanced research course familiarizes students with statistical framework, analytical tools, and social behavioral applications of three types of models: event history analysis, hierarchical linear modeling (also known as multilevel modeling or linear mixed models), and growth curve analysis. Prerequisite: COUN 870. (F;S;SS)

COUN 880 - Leadership, Consultation, and Advocacy

This course explores leadership theories, management, administration, and the models and competencies for advocating on behalf of the profession and the client. Prerequisites: None. (F;S;SS)

COUN 984 - Advanced Rehabilitation Counseling Practicum

This course requires doctoral students to participate in a supervised doctoral-level practicum of a minimum of 100 hours in counseling, which include hours for direct service with clients and group counseling. Prerequisites: COUN 800, COUN 802, and 989. (F;S;SS)

COUN 985 - Counselor Education and Supervision Internship

Doctoral students are required to complete doctoral-level counseling internship with a minimum of 600 hours including supervised experiences in counselor education and supervision. The models and ethical issues surrounding consultation are also emphasized.

Prerequisites: COUN 870, 880, and 984. (F;S;SS)

COUN 986-Counselor Education and Supervision Internship II

Doctoral students are required to complete doctoral-level supervised experiences in counselor education and supervision. The models and ethical issues surrounding consultation are also emphasized.

Prerequisites: COUN 815, 818, 984, and 989. (F;S;SS)

COUN 987-Clinical Supervision

This course provides doctoral students with the opportunity to engage in faculty supervised individual and group clinical supervision experiences. Prerequisites: COUN 812 and 818. (F;S;SS)

COUN 989 - Advanced Seminar in Theories, Group, and Career Counseling

In this professional seminar course, students explore and evaluate traditional and contemporary theories, group processes, and career exploration within the rehabilitation counseling profession. Prerequisites: None. (F;S;SS)

COUN 990-Independent Study

The doctoral independent study course offers students the opportunity to explore an area of interest. Prerequisites: None. (F;S;SS)

COUN 992 - Advanced Seminar in Career Employment Coun***

This professional seminar course explores concepts of career counseling utilizing appropriate approaches, techniques, and career/occupational materials to assist the individual with a disability in the vocational planning process. Students master advanced vocational planning techniques including Life Care Planning, Disability Management, Forensic Rehabilitation, and Vocational Expert Testimony. Prerequisite: None. (F;S;SS)

COUN 993-Supervised Teaching Practice

This course provides doctoral students with the opportunity to engage in faculty supervised teaching experiences. Prerequisite: COUN 812 and 818. (F;S;SS)

COUN 997 - Dissertation

This course offers doctoral students the opportunity to integrate their program of study into an in-dept. exploration of a research study. Students complete the dissertation with the guidance of a chair and committee members. Students work with a dissertation chair to write the prospectus, complete an approved proposal, complete an application for Institutional Review Board approval, collect and analyze data, and complete the dissertation. During the final semester, students conclude with an oral defense of their dissertation. Prerequisites: COUN 991, COUN 984. (F;S;SS)

COUN 999 - Continuation Residency

**Denotes courses that are being phased out to accommodate the 63-hour program of study.*

GENERAL INFORMATION AND EXPECTATIONS

Full-Time Study

The doctoral program ascribes to a cohort admission process which requires students to enroll as a full-time student and matriculate through the program with his/her peers admitted in the same semester. The program prepares future counselor educators and researchers. As such, students are expected to conduct research with faculty and work in the department as a graduate research or teaching assistant. Upon entering the second year of study, doctoral students are required to teach master's level clinical supervision courses. Teaching such courses depend on the student's current credentials, endorsement by program faculty, and the availability of courses.

Professional Development

The doctoral program requires students to engage in professional development. As such, students are required to attend professional development activities to include conferences, workshops, additional courses, and serve on professional committees. Students are also expected to immerse themselves into the professional counseling community by becoming an active member in professional associations. Students have the opportunity to participate in several conferences in the counseling profession (see Table 1-1 below).

Professional Counseling Conferences

COUNSELING ASSOCIATION	CONFERENCE DATE
National Council on Rehabilitation Education	February
Association of Counselor Educators and Supervisors	March
Southern Association for Counselor Education and Supervisors	October
American Counseling Association	March
American Rehabilitation Counseling Association	March
Association of Multicultural Counseling and Development	March
National Association of Multicultural Counseling Concerns	July

Advising

Students will be advised by the Program Coordinator during the first year in the program. Upon successfully completing the first year, students will be assigned an advisor by the Program Coordinator. Your advisor will assist you in developing a program of study that is tailored to your unique advisement needs and research interests. As you become more familiar with the faculty and their research interests, you and your advisor will discuss selection of a permanent advisor/dissertation chair. Your permanent advisor will guide you through the process of scheduling your comprehensive examination, selecting a dissertation chair, and creating your doctoral committee. The student's advisor serves as chair or co-chair of the committee. The advisory committee for a doctoral dissertation is composed of at least four members of the Graduate Faculty. The graduate advisor serves as chair or co-chair of the committee. Your doctoral committee will consist of your dissertation chair, two department faculty members possessing similar research interests, and a faculty member outside of the Department of Counseling. A student may elect to add an additional committee member who is an expert in the professional community. It is recommended that you meet with the individuals you desire to have on your committee to ensure that they are aware of the commitment they are making and also to determine if they are a good "match" for your committee.

Preliminary/Qualifying Examination

The Preliminary Examination is also referred to as the qualifying or comprehensive examination in the Graduate School Catalog. Each student in the program is required to complete a Comprehensive Preliminary examination upon completion of their core courses with the exception of internship and the dissertation courses. The Preliminary Examination is a two day six hour (6-hour) comprehensive examination covering two domains. One domain of the evaluation assesses the student's knowledge in research methodology. The second domain assesses the student's knowledge in Professional Practice. The student is required to complete and pass the comprehensive examination to advance to candidacy. Students are required to enroll in a non-credit hour comprehensive examination course in which a grade of "Satisfactory" or "Unsatisfactory" is earned. Only students with unconditional status and in good academic standing may take the Preliminary Examination. A student who wants to retake the Preliminary Examination must apply to retake the Preliminary Examination more than twice. A student not recommended for re-examination or who fails the exam on a second attempt may be dismissed from the doctoral program. The written comprehensive exam will be evaluated by the Comprehensive Examination Review Committee which includes the coordinator of the Program Coordinator and a minimum of two additional faculty members.

Students must obtain a grade of Pass from the majority of the review committee in order to pass their comprehensive examination. If the majority of the review committee does not Pass the student's revised comprehensive examination, then the student does not pass their comprehensive examination and must retake them. A student is allowed to take the examination twice. Upon not passing after the second administration, the student is matriculated out of the program.

It is recommended that students secure a Dissertation Chair immediately after passing the Preliminary Examination.

Prospectus/Preliminary Oral Examination

The Preliminary Defense/Prospectus is conducted by the student's dissertation committee and is a defense of the student's dissertation proposal. The purpose of the prospectus is to formalize an understanding between the student and the dissertation committee regarding the scholarship of a proposed dissertation project and to certify their collective willingness to collaborate in seeing the dissertation project to a successful completion. The dissertation prospectus is a scaled down version of a proposal and presents a research idea in sufficient clarity and detail to demonstrate an ability to produce a good proposal. A prospectus should minimally address: (a) what issue or problem do you want to address or resolve (usually in the form of a question) and (b) how do you plan to address or resolve the problem? Typically, the information referenced in the prospectus will most likely be utilized in the development of the dissertation. Students are allowed to defend their prospectus twice. After two unsuccessful attempts, the student must meet with the Program Coordinator and Dissertation Committee for remediation procedures which may include dismissal from the program.

Admission to Candidacy

Student will be admitted to candidacy upon successful completion of the Qualifying/Preliminary Exam and the completion of all courses except for the dissertation.

Dissertation

A dissertation presents the results of the student's original investigation in the field of major interest. It must represent a contribution to knowledge, be adequately supported by data and be written in a manner consistent with the highest standards of scholarship. A student must enroll in COUN 997 (formerly HDSV 900) and above during the semesters in which the dissertation is being completed. A doctoral student must register for at least one credit each term (fall, spring, and summer) until they graduate. Doctoral students typically register for at least 3 credits of dissertation each term they are doing work on their dissertation after their dissertation proposal has been approved. A student's dissertation topic must be approved by his/her dissertation committee. Students whose research involves human subjects must receive approval through IRB before beginning their research. Copies of the Dissertation must be presented by the student to his or her faculty advisor for review by the examining committee no later than one week prior to the defense of the thesis/dissertation. A student may defend the thesis dissertation no more than twice. After the dissertation has been successfully defended, the student must submit the approved dissertation to the School of Graduate Studies according to the published guidelines. Prior to or at the time of submission, the student must complete and sign the Non-Exclusive Distribution Agreement granting North Carolina A&T State University a limited, nonexclusive, royalty-free, license to reproduce the thesis or dissertation in electronic form and make it available to the general public at no charge, subject to the embargo choice/publishing restrictions of the student. This form should be delivered to the School of Graduate Studies along with the original copy of the signature page bearing signatures of committee chair, department chair and/or dean of the school. A student may not register for dissertation credits before passing Preliminary/Qualifying Examination. No more than 12 dissertation credits are counted toward the total credit hours requirement for the degree. Additionally, students are required to review and adhere to the North Carolina A&T State University Dissertation and Thesis Digital Handbook, the North Carolina A&T State University Thesis/Dissertation Digital Handbook (August 2014).

Final Oral Examination/Dissertation Defense

The Final Oral Examination is conducted by the student's dissertation committee. This examination is the final dissertation defense presentation that is scheduled after a dissertation is completed. The examination may be held no earlier than one semester (or four months) after admission to candidacy. Failure on the examination may result in dismissal from the doctoral program. The student's Advisory Committee may permit one re-examination. At least one full semester must elapse before the re-examination. Failure on the second attempt will result in dismissal from the doctoral program.

Submission of Dissertation

Upon passing the Ph.D. Final Oral Examination, the Ph.D. student must have the dissertation approved by each member of the student's dissertation committee. The approved dissertation must be submitted to The Graduate School by the deadline given in the academic calendar, and must conform to the Graduate School's guidelines for theses and dissertations.
