PHASED RETIREMENT PROGRAM FOR TENURED FACULTY

BENEFITS OVERVIEW
Salary Limitations on Retirement Income

- If you are in the Optional Retirement Program (ORP), there is no limit on the salary you may earn during retirement.

- If you are in the Teachers and State Employees Retirement System (TSERS), there is a limit on the amount you can earn from the State while receiving retirement income.
TSERS Salary Limitation

• Limit is the greater of 1/2 of the final year’s earnings or $34,800 for 2021

• If limit is exceeded, retirement benefit and retiree health benefit are suspended the first of the next month and until the end of the calendar year

• Salary increases may only be given within the individual earnings limit established by TSERS. The limit is increased Jan. 1 of each year by the % increase in the Consumer Price Index
Application of TSERS Salary Limitation

• Initial Year - Earnings in the first 12 months after the effective date of retirement will be applied to the earnings test for TSERS. After the initial year, the test will change to a calendar year test; earnings from January through December.

  • For example, a person retiring July 1, 2022 will have the earnings test applied to the period July 1, 2021 through June 30, 2022.

• Thereafter, earnings will be applied to the calendar year. This rule is to prevent someone from retiring and earning their full salary in the first year of retirement.
Example #1

• Consider:
  • A faculty member whose base salary is $75,000
  • No additional earnings from the State between July 1, 2021 and June 30, 2022

• Phased Retirement Salary is $37,500

• TSERS Earnings Limit is $37,500
Example #2

• Consider:
  • A nine-month faculty member whose base salary is $75,000
  • This faculty member earned an additional $10,000 from the State between July 1, 2021 and June 30, 2022

• Phased Retirement Salary is $37,500

• TSERS Earnings Limit is $42,500
Retirement Benefits

- ORP: May begin benefit, may begin partial benefit, may defer.

- IMPORTANT CAUTION: You will not be eligible for retiree health insurance if you are not receiving a monthly retirement benefit
Retirement Benefits continued

Social Security Limits for 2021

• Beginning with 1957, two months are added for every birth year until the full retirement age reaches 67 for people born in 1962 or later.
Social Security Limits for 2021

• If you're under full retirement age when you begin Social Security benefits, $1 in benefits will be deducted for each $2 you earn above the annual limit.

• For 2021, the limit is $18,960. Phased retirement is considered earnings, TSERS and ORP income is not considered earnings.
