

Frequently Asked Questions

When was NC Agricultural and Technical State University founded?

NC A&T is an 1890 land-grant doctoral research university. The university recently celebrated its 125th anniversary.

What is the mission of the Department of Physics?

The Department of Physics will provide highly competitive graduate and undergraduate education in physics, in order to produce able and capable physicists who are trained in the art of critical thinking, problem solving, independent learning and practical skills to meet the technical and scientific challenges in state and federal government, industry and academia and the growing demands of interdisciplinary research.

How many faculty members are in the Department of Chemistry?

There are currently 12 full-time faculty to support teaching and research needs of our students.

Where is the office location of the Dean in the College of Science and Technology?

The Dean's office is on the second floor of Smith Hall on Laurel Street.

Where can students get help if they need academic tutoring support?

Students may contact the Office of Student Success for tutoring assistance.