Division of Academic Affairs

Emeritus Appointments

Retiring tenured faculty members with the rank of Associate Professor or higher who have rendered at least 10 years of service to North Carolina A&T State University are eligible for emeritus status at the rank held and in the department home at the time of retirement.

Emeritus faculty members are eligible to use campus facilities, participate in sponsored research activities (including serving as principal/co-principal investigators), serving on graduate student advisory committees (not as chair), etc. Emeritus faculty members are also invited to all University convocations and general faculty events, are listed in University catalogs and the telephone directory, and are provided access to the University's library and computing resources. Faculty office space may be provided if available.

Emeritus faculty members are not eligible to hold an elected faculty office or participate in faculty elections.

Faculty to be considered for emeritus status must be nominated by the department chairperson and approved by the Dean, Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs, the Chancellor, and the Board of Trustees.
